Environment And Embodiment In Early

Embodied cognition is the theory that many features of cognition, whether human or otherwise, are shaped by aspects of the entire body of the organism. The features of cognition include high level mental constructs (such as concepts and categories) and performance on various cognitive tasks (such as reasoning or judgment). The aspects of the body include the motor system, the perceptual system ...

It is virtually impossible for man in what the Apostle Paul portrayed as his organic "natural" condition of mind (see What Difference Does It Make), to comprehend the enigma of a paradoxical reality. Yet, he finds himself immersed in a paradoxical world -- often eating the forbidden fruit of the Tree of Duality by embracing one paradoxical truth, while rejecting its opposite that is equally true.
